Hon. David Laxton
Speaker of the Legislative Assembly
Yukon Legislative Assembly
Whitehorse, Yukon

Dear Mr. Laxton:

I am pleased to submit a report on the expenses and revenues for registered political parties and candidates at the 2011 general election. This report also includes information from the annual returns for the registered political parties for the 2011 calendar year.

This report is prepared pursuant to section 398 of the Elections Act.

Sincerely,

Jo-Ann Waugh
Chief Electoral Officer

REPORT RESPECTING FINANCIAL PROVISIONS FOR CANDIDATES AND REGISTERED POLITICAL PARTIES, 2011

Introduction

The Elections Act (S.Y. 2004, c. 9) states in section 398:

> "(1) The chief electoral officer may report to the Legislative Assembly respecting
>
> (a) the information contained in returns filed by registered political parties or candidates,
>
> (b) anonymous contributions, or
>
> (c) any other matter under this Part.
> (2) The chief electoral officer may include in any report under paragraph (1)(a) the names of contributors over $250 and any debt holders."

This report contains the information in the Election Financing Returns filed by candidates and registered political parties pursuant to Part 6 of the Elections Act for the 2011 general election. It also includes information in the annual returns filed by officials of the registered political parties for 2011.

There were six registered political parties at the issue of the writs of election for the general election of members to the Yukon Legislative Assembly on October 11, 2011. On nomination day, September 19, 2011, there were 62 candidates, two of whom were independents.

The chief electoral officer cancelled the registration of the United Citizens Party of Yukon on nomination day. The Elections Act requires at least two candidates to be endorsed by a registered political party at a general election. The United Citizens Party of Yukon did not endorse any candidates.

Each registered political party complied with the Act and filed an Election Financing Return.

Election returns for 12 candidates: were filed after the January 16, 2012 deadline; have not been filed, or have not been filed on behalf of candidates'. There have not been responses from two candidates or their official agents to further requests for Election Financing Returns to be filed.

Each registered political party filed an Annual Return for the calendar year 2011 before the filing deadline of March 31, 2012.

Compliance with the Financial Provisions

Campaign policies, established by the Elections Office, were provided to candidates' official agents in packages provided by the Elections Office, or available at the Elections

Office, following nomination day on September 19, 2011. The campaign policies are in this report as Appendix I.

The Elections Act contains provision for the chief electoral officer to issue a certificate requiring a person to take any action required by the Act. The Act states:

> "399.1.(1) The chief electoral officer may issue directions to officials or official agents to enforce the requirements of this Part.
> (2) A compliance order pursuant to Part 4 of this Act may be issued to a registered political party or a candidate who fails to fulfill the requirements of this Part."

The specific provision in Part 4 of the Act that is relevant is section 352. It describes the process for the chief electoral officer to issue a certificate and have it filed with the Yukon Supreme Court. The effect of this action is to enforce the compliance order as a judgment of the Court.

The two candidates, who have not filed returns, have each been served with an order to comply with the Elections Act and are named in Appendix II, Candidates' Election Financing Returns, 2011 General Election.

Compliance with the election financing provisions of the Elections Act continues to be a major problem. Candidates and official agents have a legal obligation to fulfill the requirements of the law concerning elections of members to the Legislative Assembly. Registered political parties must be more diligent in providing information to potential candidates and their official agents as to their obligations under this law and candidates and their official agents must be more knowledgeable of their duties concerning campaign financing.

The registered political parties and the Elections Office each need to take responsibility for the information provided to candidates, officials and official agents. Each official agent and official of a registered political party received: income tax credit receipts, a set of forms for filing, directions on completing these forms, Part 6 of the Elections Act, and, in the case of candidates, the campaign policies for this election. As stated in the report following the 2006 general election: "Despite the information provided, many of the returns did not provide sufficient information, or indicate an understanding of the reporting requirements."

The Elections Office cannot be responsible for completing individual returns.

The Election Financing Returns for the candidates at the 2011 general election are in Appendix II. The returns for each registered political party for 2011 are included in Appendix III through Appendix VII. The returns include the names of contributors over $250 to candidates and registered political parties and the names of any debt holders identified in these returns.

Returns Not Filed, 2000 and 2002 General Elections

Candidates, who have outstanding Election Financing Returns for the 2000 and 2002 general elections, are named in Appendix VIII. The amendments regarding compliance orders do not apply to these candidates and certificates cannot be issued to them.

Public Information

All returns of financial information concerning candidates and registered political parties are public information and are available for review during business hours at the Elections Office.

APPENDIX I: CAMPAIGN FINANCING POLICIES

10.05

Campaign Financing Policies

The following policies will apply to candidates and official agents for this election to ensure compliance with the intent of the election financing provisions in Part 6 of the Elections Act.

Income tax credit receipts

- A candidate's official agent is the only person who can sign receipts to be used for income tax credits for contributions to the candidate which is received in the form of cash, cheque, postal or bank money order. These receipts are available from the Elections Office and issued only to the official agent.
- Income tax credit receipts must be prepared with the names and addresses of the contributors.
- Income tax credit receipts must not be given:
    - for office space, a vehicle, office equipment, printing, or any other goods or services
    - to someone who is working in the campaign office, or otherwise working for the candidate, unless the person has made a contribution of cash, cheque, postal or bank money order as a contributor.
- Unused receipts must be returned to the Elections Office.
- It is recommended that an unofficial, temporary receipt be issued immediately a contribution is received.

Contributors

- If a contribution is received from a contributor in the form of a cheque drawn from a joint chequing account, the income tax credit receipt must be issued to the person who signed the cheque.

Contribution

- Donations of cash, cheque, postal or money order, which are made to a candidate, must be receipted by the candidate's official agent. These donations must be reported in the candidate's election return, even if the money is to be turned over to a registered political party. The political party must not include this amount in its election return. If the donation is intended for the political party, it should be contributed directly to the party. The receipt can then be issued by the party official and reported in the party's election financing return.

Election expenses

- Salaries or honoraria paid to campaign workers must be reported as an election expense.
- All candidates must report election expenses. It is expected that a candidate will have expenses, in addition to personal expenses, during a campaign.

- Advertising naming the candidate that the party is endorsing, which is prepared and paid for by a political party, must be reported by the political party and the candidate.
- Expenses which are to be included under the category "Other" must be listed individually, if the total of "Other" exceeds the total of the categories listed on the form for election expenses.

Official agent

- The official agent must keep complete records and should open a separate bank account for the campaign.
- The official agent is responsible for paying all expenses except a candidate's personal expenses. A candidate must not pay any expenses relating to the campaign. A political party cannot pay, on behalf of the candidates it endorses, any costs incurred by a candidate except expenses related to advertising.
- The official agent is responsible for sending the election financing return to the Elections Office by the deadline.

Information for election financing returns

- Returns will be given back to the official agent if:
    - the form is not completed as required with all information provided in the applicable sections
    - there is no signature verifying the information on the return
    - the income tax credit receipts do not have the names and addresses of contributors
    - all receipts have not been accounted for:
        - the copies of issued receipts are not included
        - the unused receipts are not included
        - the return does not include a statement naming the principal of an unincorporated group which contributed money or goods to the campaign.

      Note: A constituency association is an unincorporated group.
- If the return is received on time but it is incomplete, it will not be considered as having been received on time unless the return can be completed before the due date.
- Any official agent who is unable to account for receipts issued to the official agent will be required to complete an affidavit confirming the missing receipts.
- The chief electoral officer, in a report to the Legislative Assembly during the first session of the new Legislature, will publicly name those candidates whose returns are late or have not been received.
- Proof that surplus funds from a candidate's campaign have been paid to the political party that endorsed the candidate must be provided with the election return.

Note: Funds remaining from this campaign cannot be held for a future campaign and must be given to the political party.

Further direction and information on election financing is provided in:

- Part 6, *Elections Act
- Official Agents and Election Financing.

APPENDIX II: CANDIDATES' ELECTION FINANCING RETURNS, 2011 GENERAL ELECTION

Candidates

2011 General Election

SUMMARY:

- Returns have not been received from: Timothy Cant (YL), Kluane; Patrick Singh (YL), Whitehorse Centre
- 60 returns were received.
- 12 returns were not filed by the deadline of January 16, 2011.
- 28 returns did not comply with the requirements of the Elections Act and were amended.
- 929 receipts were issued to official agents. Of this number, 40 receipts were not accounted for.

[1] Candidates' official agents were required to file financial information not later than January 16, 2011, 90 days following the returns to the writs.
[2] Value of cash and negotiable instruments received as contributions.
[3] Value of in-kind contributions received.
[4] Includes revenue received by registered political parties on behalf of candidates, for which tax credit receipts were issued by the party.
[5] The number of contributors is required to be reported for contributions. The number reported does not include in-kind contributors except where the value of the contribution is over $50.
[6] Contributors over $250 (cash/negotiable instruments) and in-kind contributors (value over $50) are identified.
[7] Includes cash and negotiable instruments and other sources of revenue. Does not include the value of in-kind contributions.
[8] The surplus or deficit is obtained by subtracting the total expenses from the total of cash and negotiable instruments which were contributed to the campaign. Surplus funds are to be remitted to a registered political party (endorsed candidate) or to the chief electoral officer (independent candidate). The bottom figure is less the value of advertising paid by the registered political party on behalf of the candidate.
[9] The total amount of expenses and the value of in-kind contributions.
